When we receive your Notice we will process it on the same day provided this is a Business Day. If we receive your Notice on a day that is not a Business Day, we will process the Notice on the following Business Day. The day that we process your Notice will mark the start of the Notice Period.

If 1 April is a day that is not a Business Day, then the funds will be released from your Notice Saver Account on the following Business Day.

Once you have provided Notice, you may not change the Notice (aside from cancelling the Notice at any time prior to the funds being released from your Notice Saver Account).

2.6 Maximum Withdrawal Amounts

There is no maximum amount on the withdrawal of funds from your Notice Saver Account, except for the daily transaction limits specified in the Rabobank Online Savings Terms and Conditions.

By default, daily interest accrued from your Notice Saver Account will be paid on a monthly basis to the respective Notice Saver Account.

Different variable Interest Rates will apply to the different types of Notice Saver Accounts. For each type of Notice Saver Account, different variable Interest Rates will apply to different balance ranges within the account (e.g. a different rate may apply to the portion of your balance between $0-$250,000 compared to the portion of your balance between $250,000-$1m). Different variable Interest Rates may also apply depending on your customer type (e.g. personal account, business account etc.). The Interest Rates applicable to the Notice Saver Accounts are variable (i.e. subject to change at Rabobank's discretion).

The Interest Rates applicable to each type of Notice Saver Account will be the interest rates determined by Rabobank from time to time and as set out and updated on the Website. The Interest Rates applicable to your Notice Saver Account(s) will be shown under the "Account Summary" section which you can access via the Internet Banking Services on the Website.

You may nominate to pay the accrued interest to your High Interest Savings Account or Purpose Saver Account via the 'Change Interest Account' screen of the Internet Banking Services on the Website.

3 Risks

Before investing in a Notice Saver Account, you should consider whether the Notice Saver Account is a suitable investment for your individual investment objectives, financial circumstances and needs. You should also consider your financial targets, investment timeframe, and what degree of risk you will accept in order to achieve your financial goals. You must read the entire PDS and seek your own investment and taxation advice.

This section is a summary of the risks associated with an investment in a Notice Saver Account and does not claim to identify every risk relevant to an individual account owner. This section is not a substitute for independent advice.

You receive an ongoing variable rate of interest in return for providing us with a set minimum Notice Period before making a withdrawal.

All investing involves risk. Investment risk is the likelihood and potential impact of not getting all your money back, or getting a lower return than you expect. Generally, the higher the expected return, the higher the expected risk.

Key Risks

- Your funds are available subject to the agreed Notice Period. This Notice Period can be a minimum of 31, 60 or 90 days depending on the Notice Saver Account selected. If you give us Notice, then you will not have access to your funds until the relevant Notice Period has expired.
- Rabobank may change the Interest Rates applicable to your Notice Saver Account at any time so there is no guarantee that you will always earn a particular rate of interest on your Notice Saver Account.
- Your funds must be cleared funds before they can be withdrawn.
- Rabobank has the right to close your Notice Saver Account in certain circumstances specified in the Rabobank Online Savings Terms and Conditions.
- You are exposed to the credit risk of Rabobank. Credit risk is the risk of Rabobank not meeting its obligations to you under the Rabobank Online Savings Terms and Conditions.

- Sovereign risk is the risk that as a result of certain major events, the liquidity of a currency or foreign exchange market generally is reduced. Examples may include failure of a major institution, war or political unrest. This risk also includes the failure of a government to meet its financial obligations and actions taken by a government or agency that may reduce the ability to exchange or redeem funds from its jurisdiction.
- Insolvency risk is where Rabobank becomes insolvent or is placed into statutory management in circumstances where Rabobank's assets could not satisfy your claim under guarantees they have provided.
- Rates of return. Changes to wholesale market rates and competitor rates are two examples of external factors that can influence the rates of return offered on your investment. As such, the rates of return payable in respect of an investment in a Notice Saver Account may change at any time without notice. The Interest Rate applicable to your Notice Saver Account is influenced by several factors including the target 'cash rate' set by the Reserve Bank of Australia from time to time.

4 Tax information

The summary of the tax considerations in this section is necessarily general in nature and is based on the assumption that the investor is an Australian resident operating from Australia. It does not take into account specific circumstances of each individual investor. We recommend that you seek independent taxation advice in relation to your own particular circumstances before making an investment decision to open a Notice Saver Account.

If your Notice Saver Account earns deposit interest in a tax year, any interest income derived from the Notice Saver Account should be assessable to you. You may be required to declare the interest income derived in your income tax return.

If your Notice Saver Account earns deposit interest in a tax year, your account will be subject to Tax File Number (TFN) legislation. During account opening, Rabobank will require your TFN (or Exemption) or ABN. Quotation of your TFN, TFN Exemption or ABN to Rabobank is authorised, and its use and disclosure are strictly regulated by the tax and privacy legislation. We will keep your TFN, TFN Exemption or ABN confidential in accordance with privacy laws. The TFN, TFN Exemption or ABN you have quoted during account opening will automatically be applied to any present and future accounts you hold unless you notify Rabobank otherwise.

You are not required by law to quote your TFN, TFN Exemption or ABN if you do not wish to do so. For more information, contact the ATO on 13 28 61. However, if you have not quoted your TFN, TFN Exemption or ABN, Rabobank is required by the ATO to deduct tax at the top marginal rate plus Medicare levy, from any interest paid on your balance. If you did not provide your TFN, TFN Exemption or ABN to us at the time of account opening, you may contact us to update this information. If tax is withheld, you may be able to claim a credit for the amount withheld upon lodgement of your income tax return for the income year.

5 Fees and charges

There are no fees associated with a Notice Saver Account.

5.1 Notice Saver Early Withdrawal Conditions

You may withdraw part or all of your deposited funds without penalty, as long as you give and serve the applicable Notice Period. You may not, however, request a withdrawal or redemption giving less than the applicable amount of Notice (for example, you cannot request a withdrawal or redemption in 60 days if the applicable Notice Period is 90 days). After giving Notice, a withdrawal request may be cancelled any time up until the Last Business Day prior to the expiry of the Notice Period.

Funds can only be withdrawn on the first Business Day following the expiry of the Notice Period. Funds can be transferred to one of your other Rabobank Online Savings accounts or to your nominated Linked Account. In exceptional circumstances, such as financial hardship you can request immediate withdrawal of part of your deposit, or the redemption of your deposit in its entirety. Rabobank reserves the right to refuse any immediate withdrawal or redemption request at our absolute discretion.

After you withdraw all of your deposit (subject to the relevant Notice Period), your Notice Saver Account will remain open.

You can request to close your Notice Saver Account by contacting us between 8am and 7pm (AEST), Monday to Friday on 1800 445 445. 6.2 How to apply for a hardship early withdrawal

- Contact us by phone or in writing
- Explain why you are having difficulties making payments (for example, because of illness, unemployment or financial circumstances)
